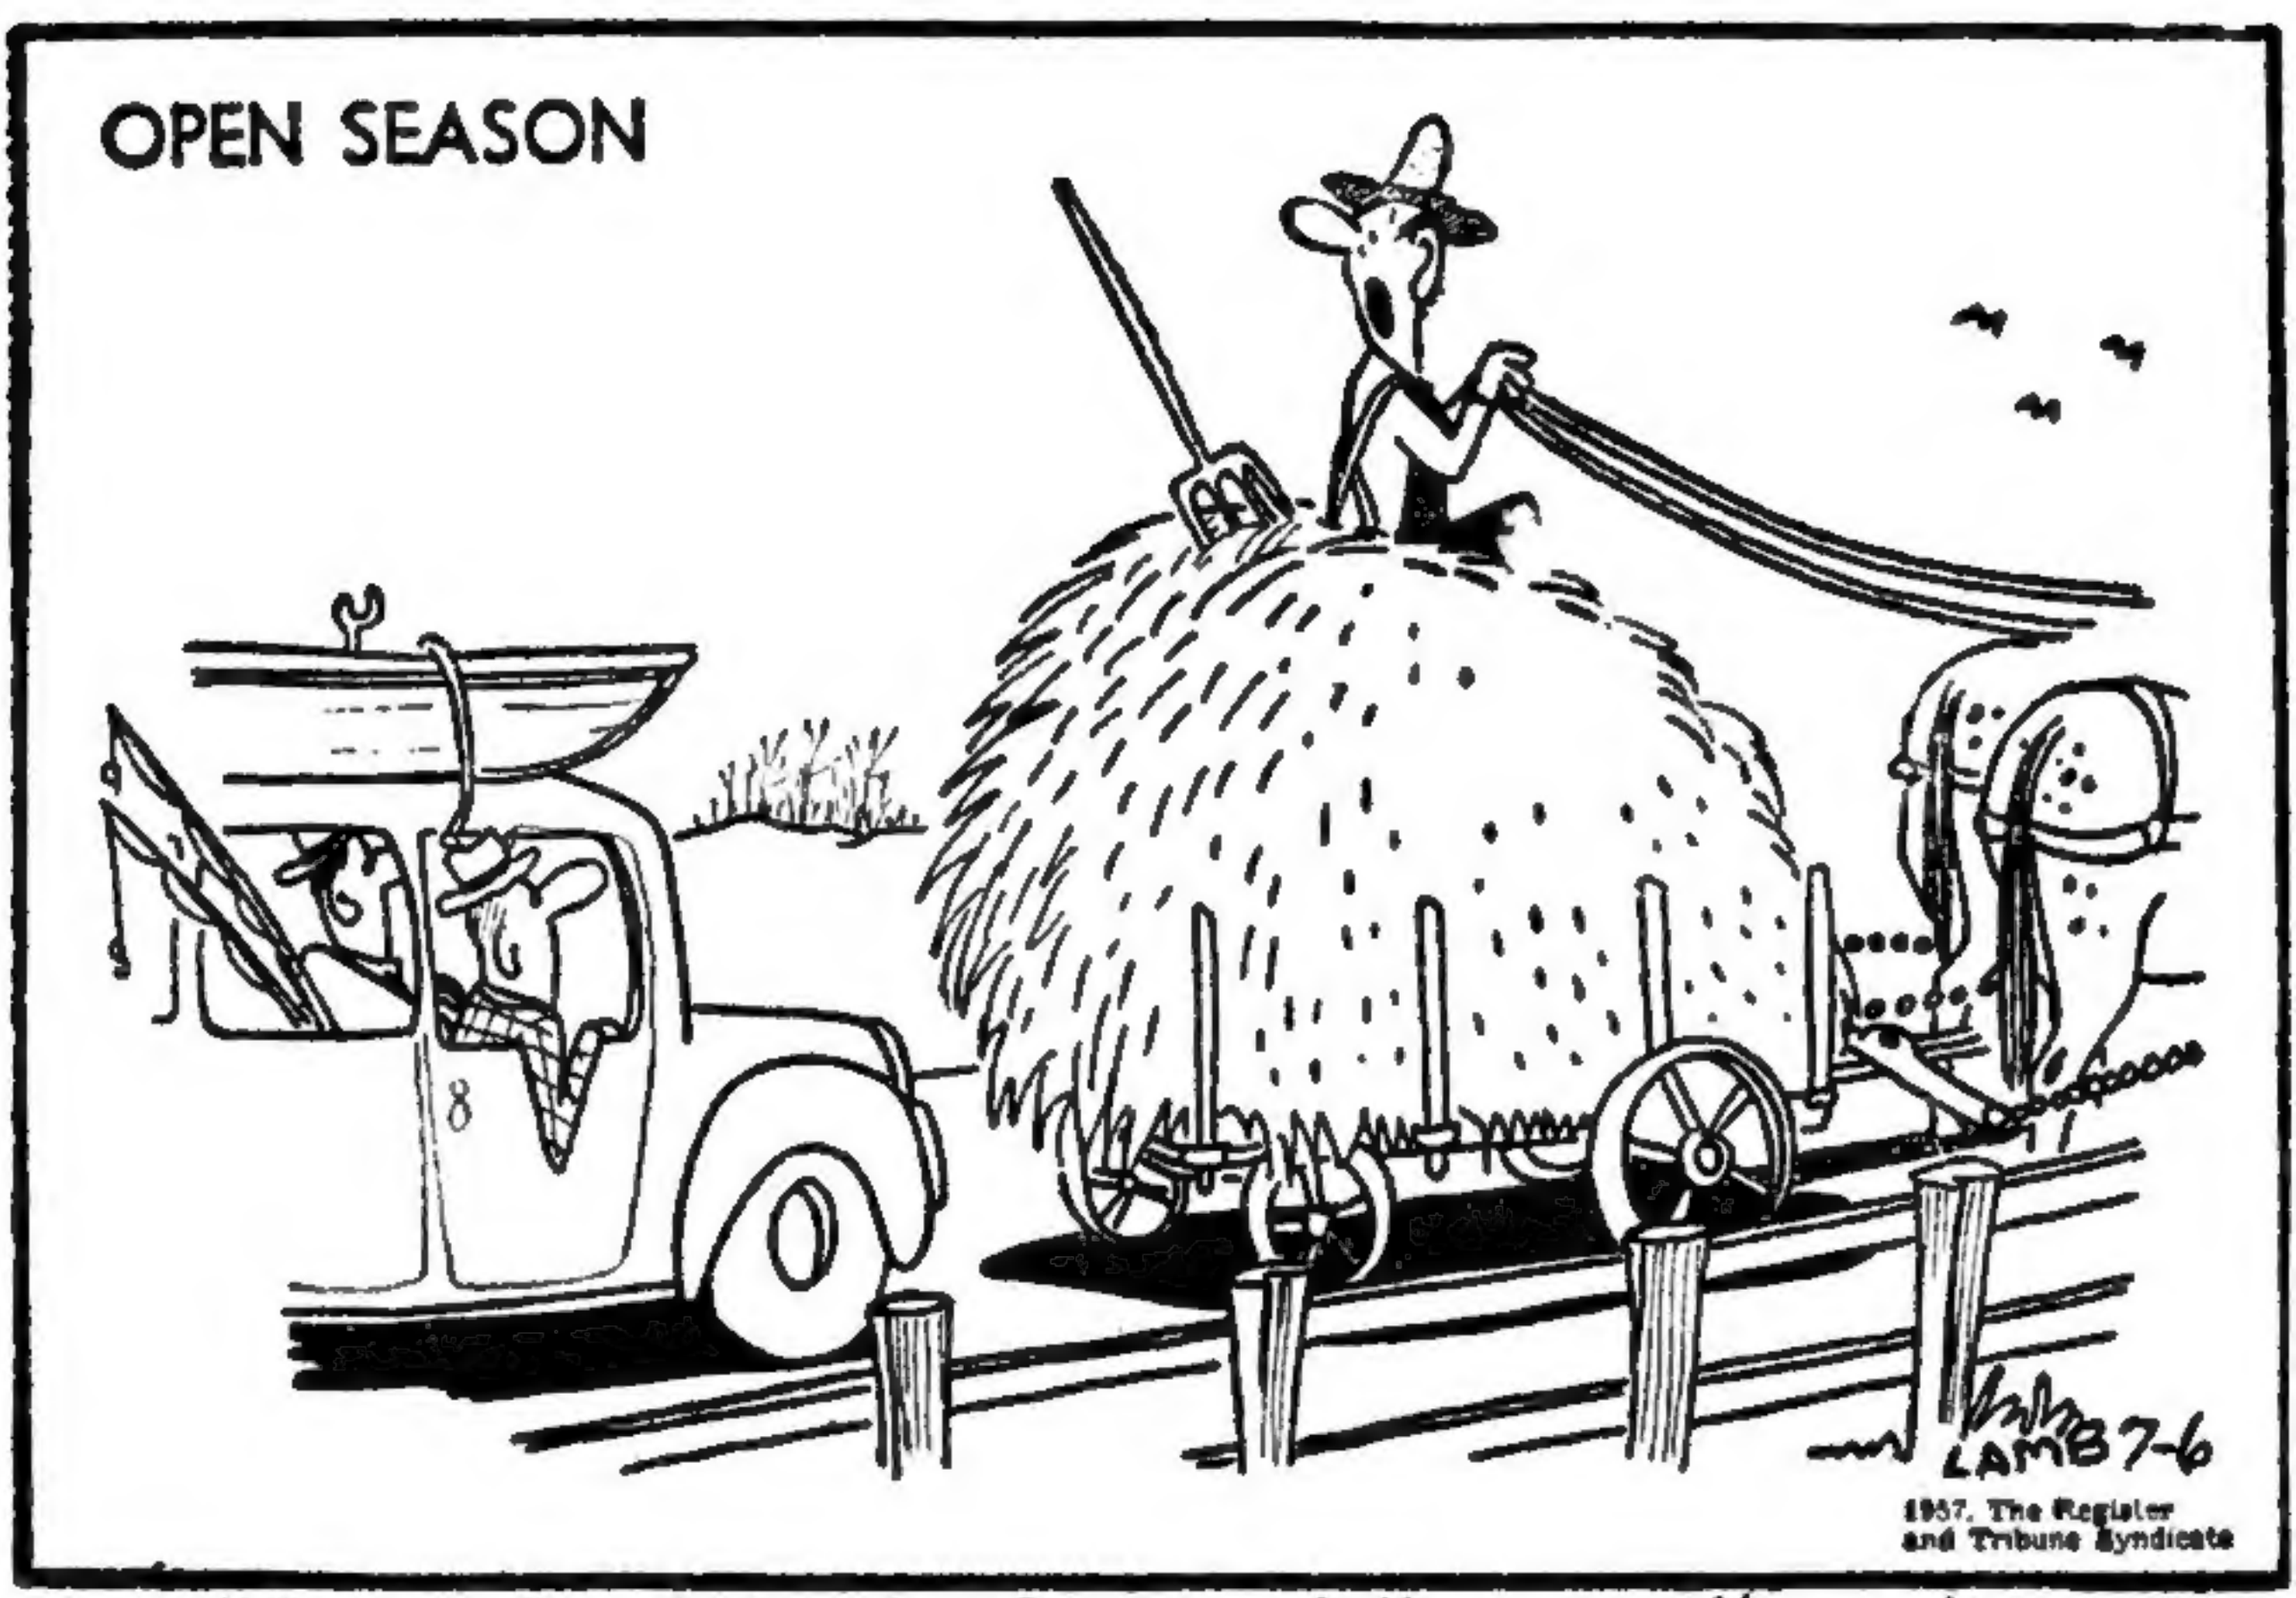
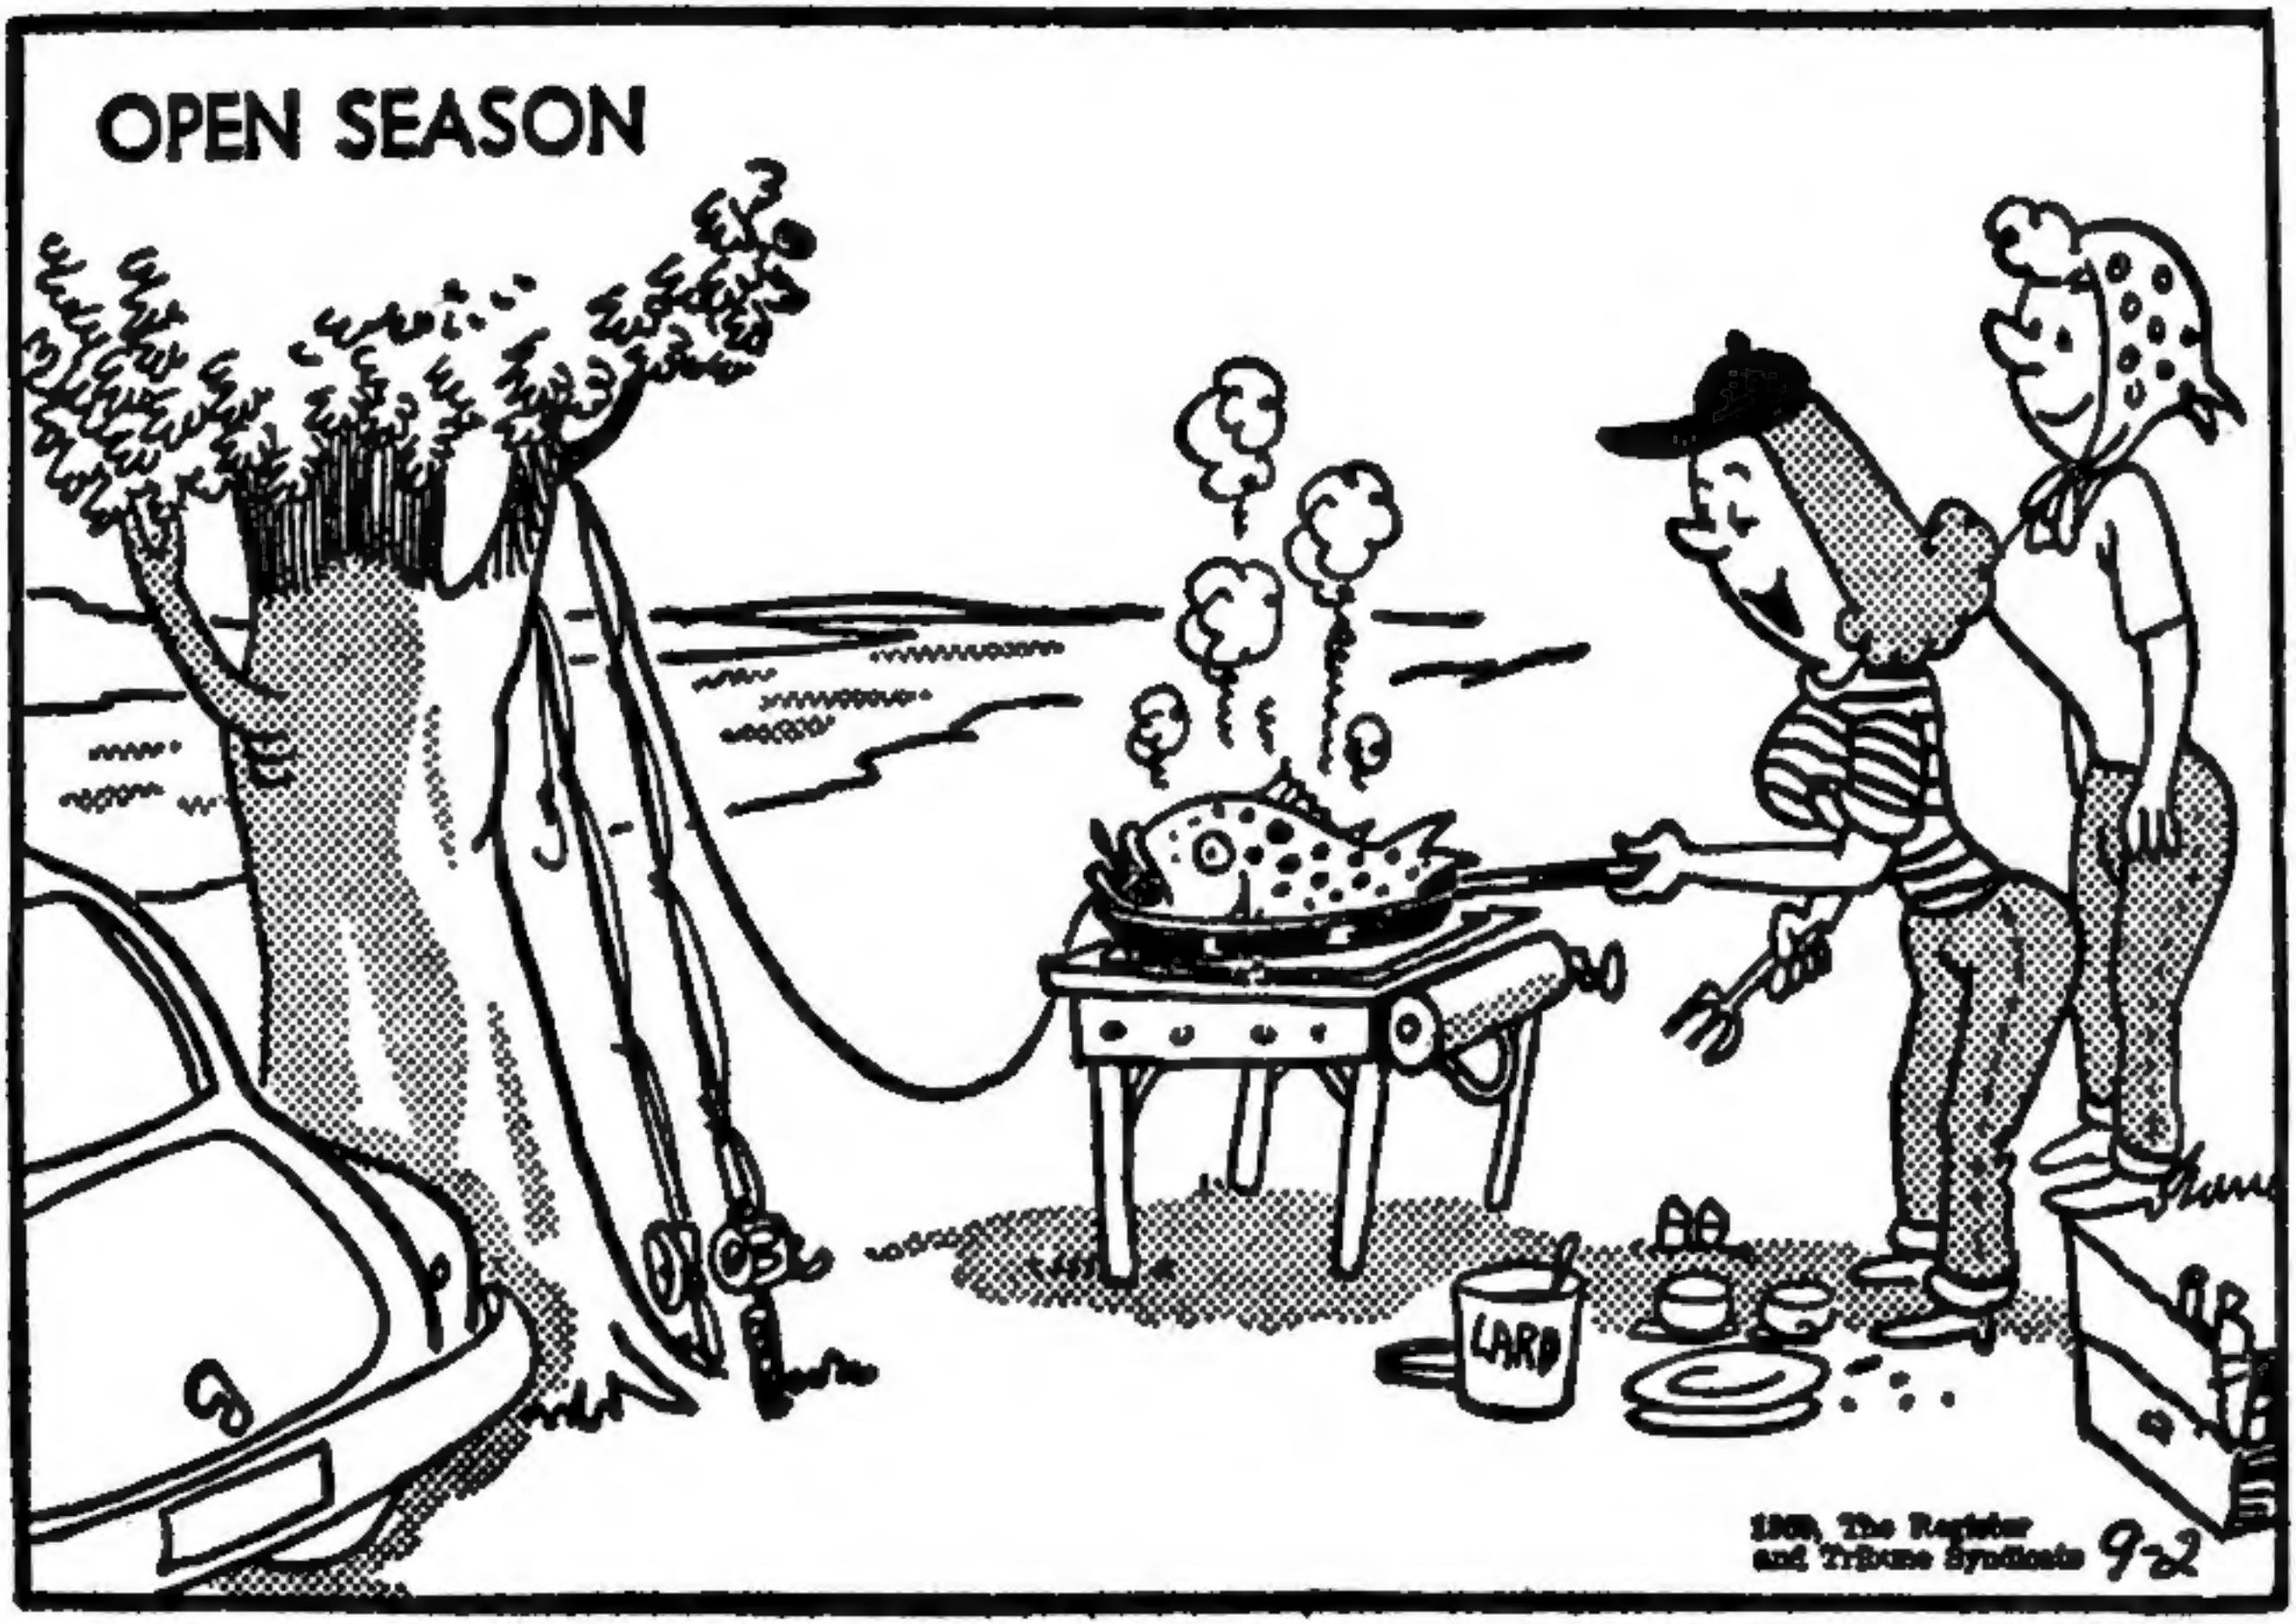
OPEN SEASON
LAMB
5-13
1957, The Register and Tribune Syndicate

"A mirage, eh?"

"For Pete's sake – the ceremony won't take all day, will it?"



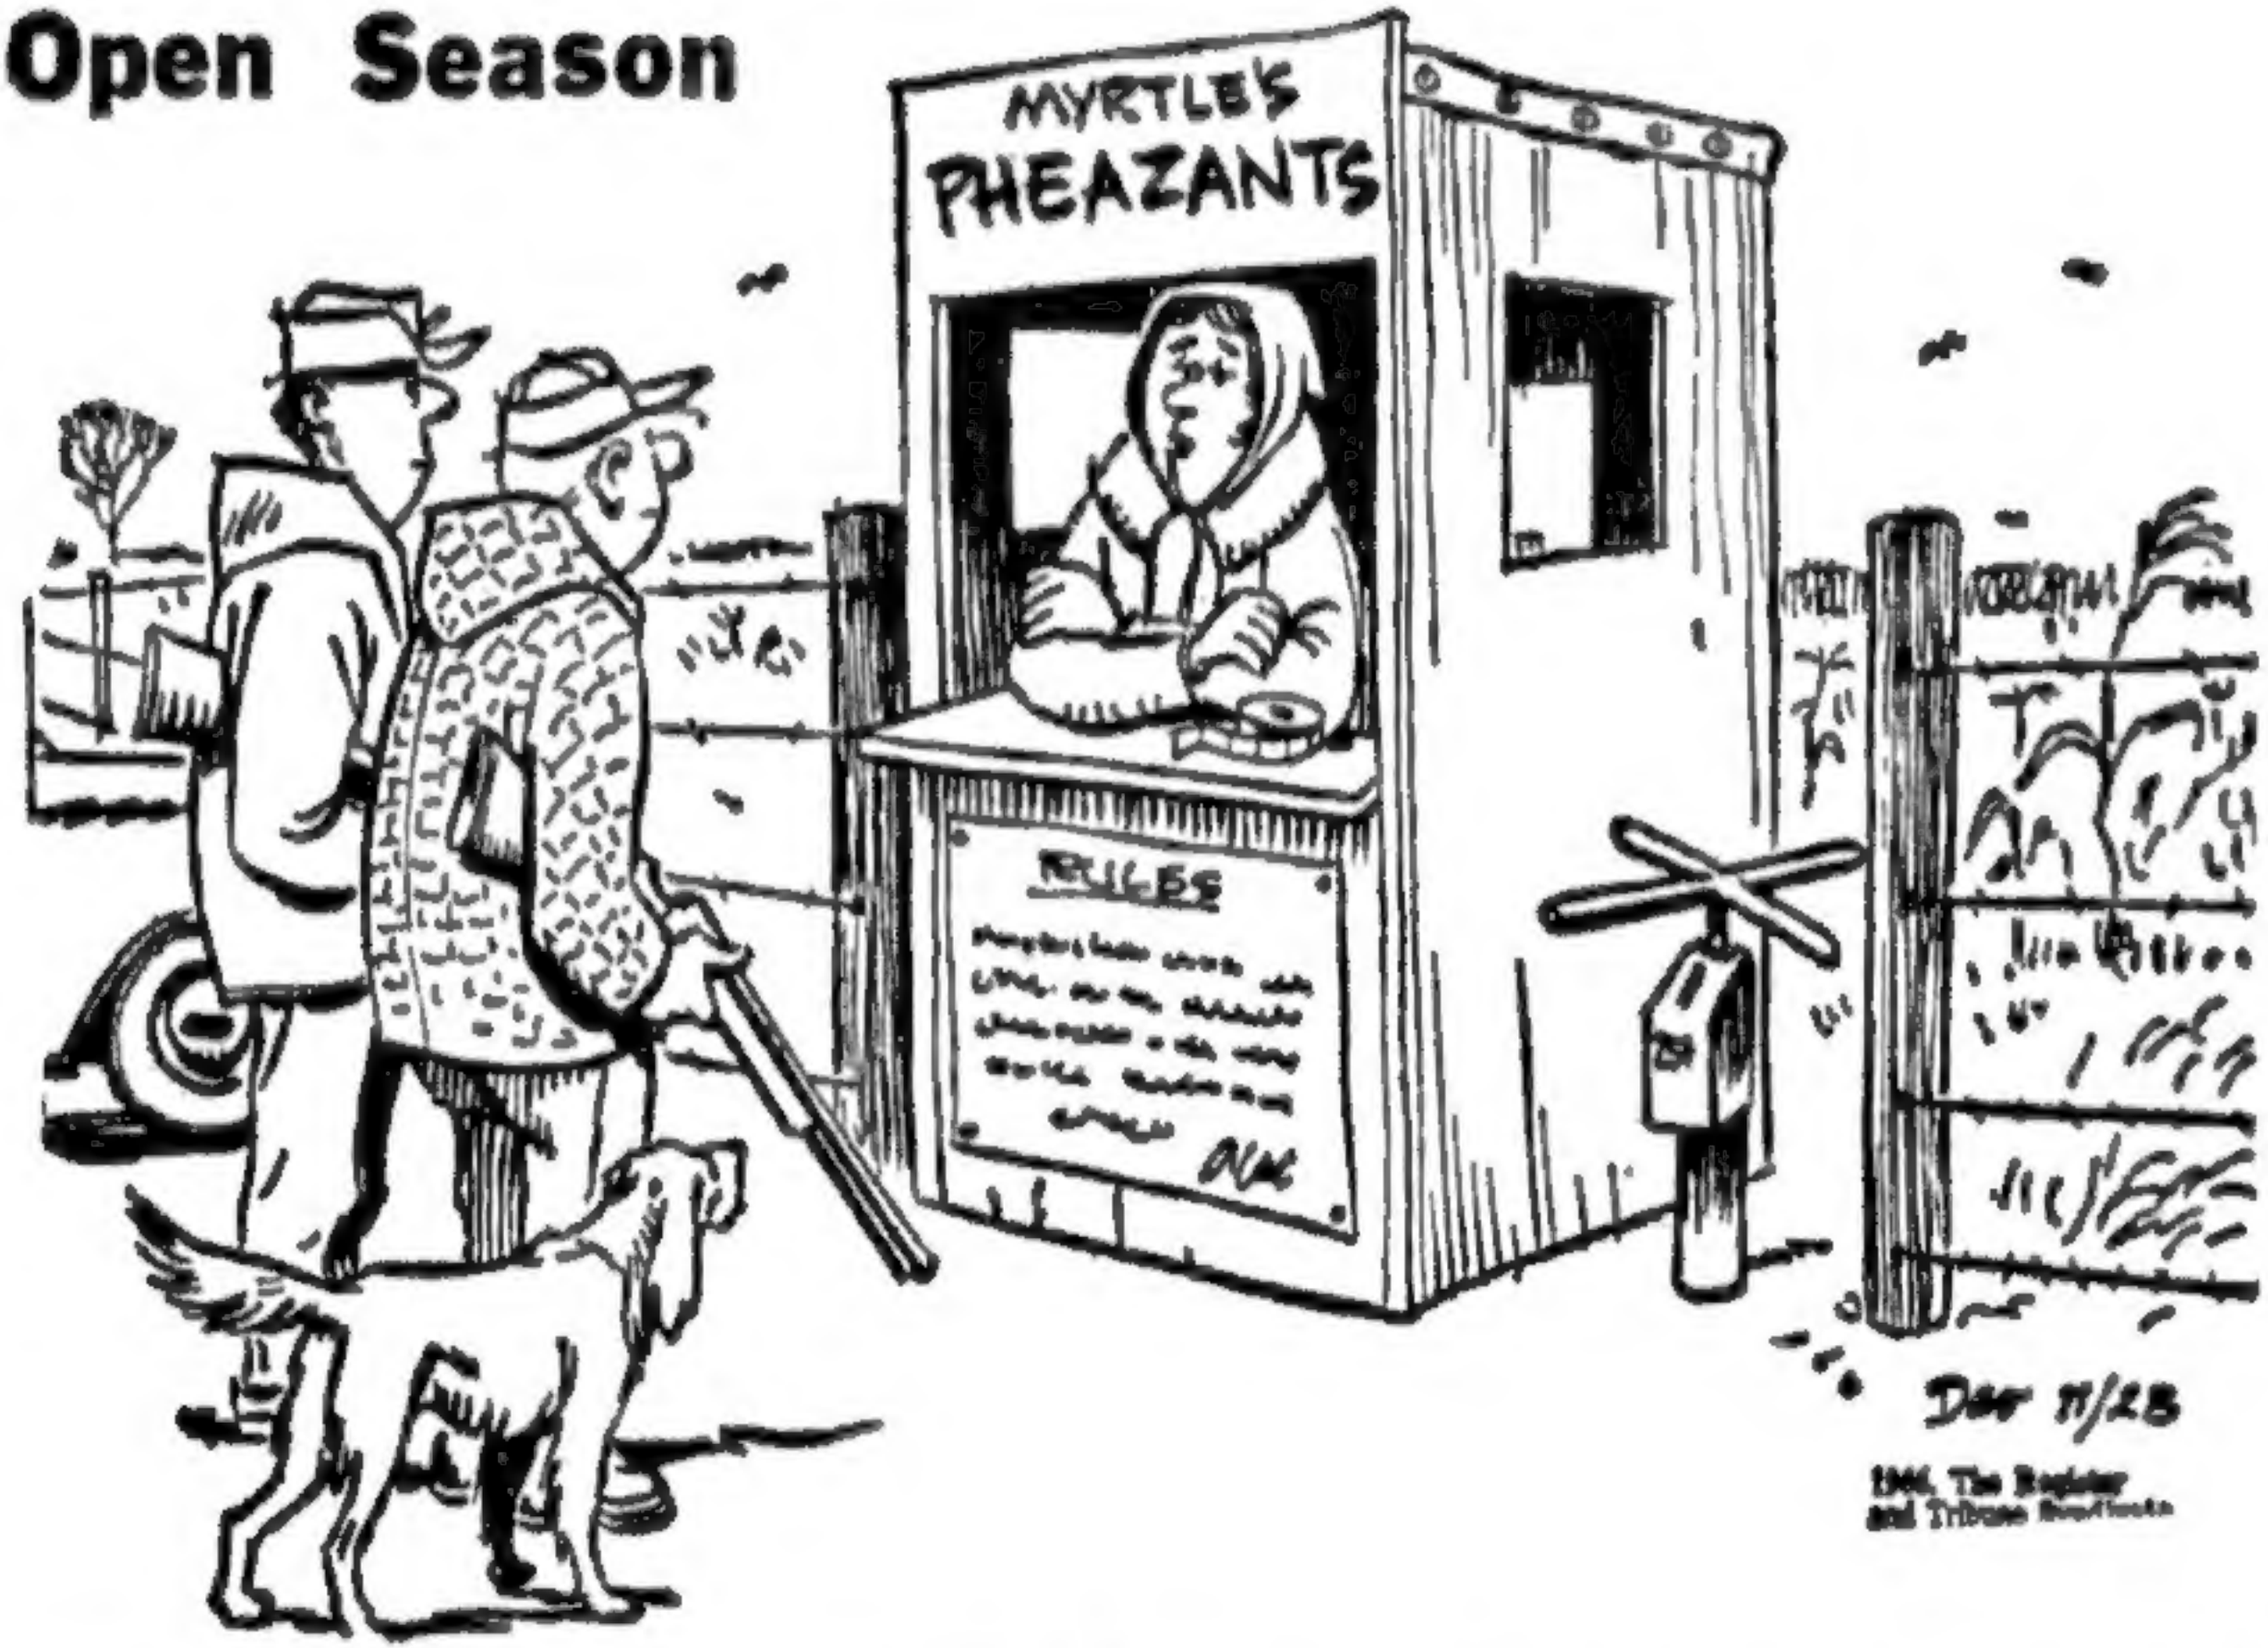
"Goose Creek landing? – just follow me, I'm going there myself!"



"It will be easier to take the hook out after he's cooked!"

"—And your own trout stream right past your front door!"

Open Season



"Five dollars per bird, dollar an hour, and the mutt will be two bucks extra."